FISCAL YEAR SUMMARY REPORT OF POPULATION MOVEMENT
1982

This bulletin provides information relating to the volume and movement of offenders for whom Wisconsin's Division of Corrections had supervisory responsibility during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1982. Data about fiscal year movements and average daily populations for the following offender populations can be found in Tables 1-5: adult correctional institutions,[1] Bureau of Community Corrections residential centers, juvenile institutions, probation and parole services, and absconders from probation and parole supervision.

A total of 29,556 offenders were under Division of Corrections supervision on June 30, 1982; an increase of 2,139 cases (7.8 percent) over July 1, 1981 levels. The number of offenders confined in facilities for adults, including residential centers, increased from 4,016 on July 1, 1981 to 4,487 on June 30, 1982, an increase of 11.7 percent. The juvenile institution population decreased 5 percent from 483 on July 1, 1981 to 459 on June 30, 1982. Probation and parole services caseload increased from 20,043 to 21,868 (9.1 percent) during the fiscal year while the probation and parole absconder caseload decreased 4.6 percent (from 2,875 to 2,742) during the same time period. It should be noted that these figures do not include institutionalized adults or juveniles reported as absent in the footnotes for Tables 1, 2, and 3.

[1] Includes Wisconsin offenders resident under contract in Minnesota correctional institutions, a program that began in September, 1981.

Table A
Total Institution and Community Supervision Populations
Average Daily Population with Percent Change
Fiscal Years 1978 through 1982

Fiscal Year	Average Daily Population	Percent Change
1978	25,116	+ 5.3
1979	25,754	+ 2.5
1980	26,643	+ 3.5
1981	27,095	+ 1.7
1982	28,473	+ 5.0

Note: Includes community supervision cases supervised in other states, cases from other states supervised in Wisconsin, offenders resident in Minnesota facilities, absconders from probation and parole, and residents in medical hospitals.

The average daily population for all offenders supervised by the Division of Corrections has increased steadily during the past five years from a total of 25,116 cases in fiscal year 1978 to 28,473 cases in fiscal year 1982. This is an overall increase of 13.4 percent during the five year period.

Table B
Corrections Institutional Population
Average Daily Population with Percent Change
Fiscal Years 1978 through 1982

Fiscal Year	Average Daily Population	Percent Change
1978	4,113	+ 1.8
1979	4,065	- 1.2
1980	4,066	0.0
1981	4,301	+ 5.8
1982	4,683	+ 8.9

The correctional institution average daily population includes offenders confined in institutions for adults, juveniles, and youthful offenders as well as offenders residing in Bureau of Community Corrections residential centers. This population decreased slightly in 1979 and remained stable in 1980. However, the population began to rise in 1981 and by the end of fiscal year 1982, had increased 15.2 percent over 1980 levels.

Table C

1982	4,683/1	4,229	3,953	143	118	15	454	422	32

/1 Total includes persons committed as youthful offenders. Youthful offender legislation, which became operative on July 1, 1976, was repealed on July 1, 1978.

/2 Sex of 1 resident in a medical hospital was not reported. For purposes of this bulletin, this case was included as a male.

/3 Sex of 7 residents in hospitals was not reported but cases are included in this publication as males.

Table C provides data on correctional institution average daily populations for the fiscal years 1978-1982 by type of institution and sex of resident. The number of adult residents in correctional institutions increased steadily during the five-year period from an average daily population of 3,381 in 1978 to 4,229 in 1982, an increase of 25.1 percent. Juvenile institution average daily populations, however, declined during the five-year period from a high of 738 in 1978 to a low of 454 in 1982, an overall decrease of 38 percent. This decrease is attributable primarily to the revision of Children's Code which became effective in November 1978. This revision provides that a juvenile may be placed in Division of Corrections custody only if he or she is adjudged delinquent of an act which would be punishable by a sentence of six months or more if committed by an adult, and only if found to be a danger to the public and in need of restrictive custodial treatment.

1980	22,577	+ 4.1
1982	23,790	+ 4.4

Average end-of-the-month population figures for total persons on probation and parole services caseloads during the past five fiscal years are presented in Table D. The average end-of-the-month population increased during each of the five years with the overall increase between 1978 and 1982 being 13.3 percent.

1981	22,794	19,594	3,200
1982	23,790	20,533	3,257

Probation and parole average end-of-the-month populations are presented in Table E. The number of persons under probation supervision increased during each of the five years. The average end-of-the-month number of persons under parole supervision reached a five-year high of 3,664 in 1979, declined to a low for the five-year period of 3,200 in 1981, and increased slightly (1.8 percent) to an average of 3,257 in fiscal year 1982.

1982	17,982	14,300	3,027	104	18	6	--	448	79

Average end-of-the-month population figures for probation cases broken down by type of case and sex are presented for the five-year period in Table F. The number of adult male probation cases rose steadily from a low of 11, 191 in 1978 to 14,300 in 1982. The average-end-of-the-month figures for adult female probationers also showed a consistent increase during the same time period. The average number of persons reported as juvenile probation cases decreased steadily throughout 1978-1982 as did the number of youthful offenders on probation status.

*Includes mandatory releases to field supervision.

Average end-of-the-month populations for parole and juvenile aftercare cases for the past five fiscal years are presented in Table H. The average end-of-the-month population of cases on parole and juvenile aftercare reached a low for the five-year period of 2,942 in 1981 but increased to 3,030 in 1982 (3 percent). The populations of males and females on both youthful offender parole and juvenile aftercare supervision reached lows for the five-year period during 1982.

Residents in Wisconsin
Adult Correctional Facilities
on June 30, 1982
With Five-Year Trends for 1978-1982

A total of 4,487 persons, 4,311 males and 176 females were confined in Wisconsin's adult correctional facilities on June 30, 1982./1 These figures represent an increase of 11.7 percent over June 30, 1981 levels when a total of 4,016 persons, 3,871 males and 145 females, were reported as being in residence.

Tables 1 and 2 contain information about the admission status (new adult sentence, parole violator, etc.) and the ethnicity of all persons in residence on June 30, 1982. Information relating to offense, length of sentence, age on admission, etc., can be found in Tables 3-10. Sixty-seven persons have been excluded from Tables 3-10. These include 41 males and 5 females temporarily held pending the completion of probation, parole, or mandatory release revocation hearings, 20 males serving alternative to revocation contracts, and 1 male without a Wisconsin sentence. Five-year trend data for males and females in residence on June 30, 1978-1982 can be found in Tables A and B.

* Information not available for 1978 and 1979.

/1 These figures include residents in institutions, camps, and farms operated by the Bureau of Adult Institutions, residential centers operated by the Bureau of Community Corrections, and the Corrections Drug and Alcohol Treatment Center operated by the Bureau of Program Resources. Residents housed under contract in Minnesota correctional facilities at Stillwater, St. Cloud, and Oak Park Heights are also included.

On June 30, 1982, a total of 4,311 males were resident in Wisconsin's adult correctional facilities; an increase of 11.4 percent over June 30, 1981, when 3,871 were reported and an increase of 32.5 percent over the five-year low of 3,254 residents reported on June 30, 1979. The median length of sentence decreased slightly from a five-year high of 6.1 years in 1980 to 5.8 years in 1982. The proportion of men reported as being non-white decreased from a five-year high of 43.2 percent in 1980 to a low of 41.5 percent in 1982. Milwaukee County commitments declined from a high of 49.2 percent of the population in 1979 to a low of 43.4 percent in 1982.

Classification of persons as to type of offender; i.e., assaultive offender, sex offender, drug offender, combinations of the preceding three, and not assaultive, sex, or drug offender began with populations in residence on December 31, 1979. The proportion of males classified as assaultive offenders only decreased from a 44.0 percent in 1980 to 34.2 percent in 1982. However, during the same time period the proportion of males classified as assaultive and sex offenders rose from 12.4 percent to 18.6 percent and those classified as assaultive, sex, and drug offenders rose from less than 1 percent in 1980 to 3.3 percent in 1982. The proportion of males who were not classified as being assaultive, sex, or drug offenders rose slightly during each of the three years.

1982 CALENDAR YEAR SUMMARY OF POPULATION MOVEMENT

This bulletin is designed to provide information about the volume and movement of offender populations supervised by Wisconsin's Division of Corrections in calendar year 1982. Data relating to calendar year movements and average daily populations for adult correctional institutions,[/1] juvenile institutions, probation and parole services, and absconders from probation and parole supervision can be found in Tables 1-4.

A total of 31,289 persons were under Division of Corrections supervision on December 31, 1982; an increase of 11.7 percent over January 1, 1982 levels when 28,026 persons were reported under supervision. The population in facilities for adults rose from 4,249 on January 1, 1982 to 4,635 on December 31, 1982; an increase of 9.1 percent. Juvenile institution populations rose 8.0 percent from 477 at the start of the year to 515 at year's end. Increases from 20,587 to 23,320 (13.3 percent) in probation and parole services caseloads and from 2,713 to 2,819 (3.9 percent) in probation and parole absconder caseloads were also noted during calendar year 1982. It should be noted that these figures do not include institutionalized adults and juveniles reported as absent in footnotes for Tables 1 and 2.

[/1] Table 1, Adult Facilities, includes offenders resident in Bureau of Community Corrections (BCC) residential centers as well as Wisconsin offenders resident under contract in Minnesota correctional institutions.

Calendar Year	Average Daily Population	Percent Change
1978	22,970	N/A
1979	23,143	+ 0.8
1980	23,969	+ 3.6
1981	24,710	+ 3.1
1982	26,777	+ 8.4

NOTE: This table includes community supervision cases supervised in other states, cases from other states supervised in Wisconsin, and Wisconsin inmates resident under contract in Minnesota correctional institution. It does not include absconders from probation and parole supervision.

Table A shows the average daily population for all cases supervised by the Division of Corrections (excluding absconders from probation and parole supervision) for the calendar years 1978-1982. The average daily populations increased each year with the largest increase reported between calendar years 1981 and 1982. Note: Information contained in Tables A-D is based on average daily populations determined by computing the average daily population for each month of the calendar year and dividing by 12 to obtain the average daily population for the year.

1978	4,120	+ 1.0
1979	4,013	- 2.6
1980	4,166	+ 3.8
1981	4,501	+ 8.1
1982	4,902	+ 8.9

NOTE: Includes adult, juvenile, and community corrections residential center populations as well as Wisconsin inmates resident under contract in Minnesota correctional institutions.

The average daily populations reported for correctional facilities (adult and juvenile institutions) decreased slightly during calendar year 1979, recorded an increase in 1980 and have continued to increase since that time. The 1982 average daily population of 4,902 is an increase of 19.0 percent over the 4,120 average daily population recorded in 1978.

1982	4,902	4,272	174	423	33

/a Sex of six residents in medical hospitals undetermined. For purposes of this bulletin, these cases were included as males.

The overall institutions average daily population increased 8.9 percent from 4,501 in 1981 to 4,902 in calendar year 1982. The increase occurred in adult facilities where average daily populations rose from 4,028 in 1981 to 4,446 in 1982; an increase of 10.4 percent. Juvenile institution average daily populations continued the decrease first noted in 1979 following adoption of Wisconsin's revised Children's Code. This revision, which became effective in November, 1978, provides that juveniles can be placed in Division of Corrections custody only if (1) adjudged delinquent for an act that would be punishable by a sentence of six months or more if committed as an adult and (2) only if found to be a danger to the public and in need of restrictive custodial care and treatment. It is interesting to note that between 1978 and 1982, the average daily population for institutionalized adults rose 30.1 percent while decreasing 35.1 percent for institutionalized juveniles.

1980	19,803	+ 3.5
1981	20,209	+ 2.1
1982	21,875	+ 8.3

NOTE: Includes probation, parole, and outpatient sex crimes cases. Does not include absconders from probation and parole supervision.

The average daily populations reported for offenders under Division of Corrections probation and parole supervision have increased steadily from 19,130 in 1979 to 21,875 in 1982, an increase of 14.4 percent. The largest increase during the five-year period occurred between the years 1981 and 1982 when an increase of 8.3 percent was noted.

1981	20,225	17,300	2,925
1982	21,971	18,823	3,148

NOTE: Includes mandatory releases to supervision. Does not include absconders from probation or parole supervision.

The overall average end-of-the-month population for offenders under supervision in the community increased steadily during the five-year period from 18,882 persons in 1978 to 21,971 in 1982; an increase of 16.4 percent. Probation end-of-the-month average populations increased during each of the five-years from a low of 15,563 in 1978 to a high of 18,823 (+21.0 percent) in 1982. The average end-of-the-month parole population which hit a five-year low of 2,925 during 1981 increased 7.6 percent to 3,148 in 1982. Note: Figures presented in Tables E-I are average end-of-the-month populations computed by averaging for each calendar year the persons reported in residence at the end of each month. This was done so that information about the sex of persons on the caseload could be included in this bulletin. Average daily population figures (Tables A-D) are not available by sex of the offender.

NOTE: Includes mandatory releases to field supervision. Does not include absconders.

Information about type and sex of average end-of-the-month probation population for the years 1978-1982 is present in Table F. Youthful offender and juvenile probation average end-of-the-month propulations declined steadily during the five year period due to the July 1, 1978 repeal of the Youthful Offender Law and a Department of Health and Social Services policy decision not to accept supervision of juveniles placed on probation supervision under the revised Children's Code. The average end-of-the-month population of adult male probationers rose from 13,686 in 1981 to 14,961 in 1982; an increase of 9.3 percent. During the same time period the average end-of-the-month population for adult female probationers rose 11.9 percent.

The average end-of-the-month populations for persons on the probation absconder caseload during 1978-1982 are presented in Table G. Probation absconder average end-of-the-month populations reached a high of 2,654 in 1980 decreased slightly (1.3 percent) in 1981 and continued to decrease (3.1 percent) in 1982.

NOTE: Includes mandatory releases to field supervision but does not include absconders from parole supervision.

The average end-of-the-month population of adult males under parole supervision rose from 2,333 in 1981 to a high for the five-year period of 2,562 (an increase of 9.8 percent) in 1982. Figures for adult females under parole supervision increased 7.4 percent during the same time priod. The average end-of-the-month population for juenile males under aftercare supervision reached a five-year low of 201; a decrease of 68.4 percent over the 1978 five-year high of 664. Figures for juvenile females decreased 79.4 percent during the same time period.

Residents in Wisconsin
Adult Correctional Facilities
on December 31, 1982
With Five-Year Trends for 1978-1982

This bulletin is designed to provide information about the 4,635 offenders (4,451 males and 184 females) resident in Wisconsin's correctional facilities for adults on December 31, 1982.[1] The population increased 9.1 percent over December 31, 1981 levels when 4,249 persons, 4,093 males and 156 females were reported as being in residence.

Information about the admission status (new adult sentence, mandatory release violator, etc.) and the race and ethnicity of all persons in residence can be found in Tables 1 and 2. Data about offense, length of sentence, county of commitment, etc., are presented in Tables 3-10. One hundred and two persons have been excluded from Tables 3-10. This number includes 79 males and 3 females temporarily held pending completion of probation, parole, or mandatory release revocation hearings, 19 males serving alternative to revocation contracts, and one male voluntary return from parole supervision. Five-year trend data covering the years 1978 through 1982 appears in Tables A and B.

[1] These figures include residents in institutions, camps, and farms operated by the Bureau of Adult Institutions, residential centers operated by the Bureau of Community Corrections, and the Corrections Drug and Alcohol Treatment Center operated by the Bureau of Program Resources. Residents housed under contract in Minnesota correctional facilities at Stillwater, St. Cloud, and Oak Park Heights are also included.

On December 31, 1982, 4,451 males were resident in Wisconsin's correctional facilities; an increase of 8.8 percent over December 31, 1981, when 4,093 were reported and a 35.5 percent increase over the five-year low of 3,285 recorded on December 31, 1978. It should be noted that 3.7 percent (164) of the males in residence on December 31, 1982, were serving their Wisconsin sentences under contract in Minnesota correctional institutions. Slightly more than four-fifths (81.5 percent) of the residents had entered the institution as some type of new admission.[2]

The median age, which reached a five-year high of 27.1 years in 1981 decreased to 26.5 years on December 31, 1982. A median length of sentence of 5.9 years was noted for men in residence at the close of 1982. Men committed to the institution from Milwaukee County accounted for about 4 out of 10 (41.3 percent) of the December 31, 1982 resident population, a low for the five-year period.

The proportion of men in residence who were not classified as assaultive, sex or drug offenders has remained relatively stable at about 38 percent during the four years for which data are available. Men classified as sex offenders only made up less than on percent of the resident population during each of the four years while those categorized as solely drug offenders has remained relatively stable at less than 5 percent of the resident population. The proportion of men classified as being only assaultive offenders has declined steadily from 46.4 percent in 1979 to 33.6 percent in 1982. During the same time period, the proportion of residents reported as being both assaultive and sex offenders more than doubled from 9.4 percent in 1979 to 20.3 percent in 1982. Men classified as assaultive, sex, and drug offenders made up 0.1 percent of the population in 1979. However, the proportion of residents in this category has risen steadily and reached a high of 3.3 percent in 1982.

[2] For breakdown of various admission statuses making up new admission category, see Table 1.

The number of females in residence on December 31 rose to a five-year high of 184 in 1982; an increase of 38.4 percent over the low for the five-year period of 133 recorded in 1980. The proportion of females committed from Milwaukee County continued to decline reaching a low of 39.2 percent in 1982. A median age of 27.9 years was reported for females in residence on December 31, 1982; a high for the five-year period.

On December 31, 1982, almost one-half (49.2 percent) of the women in residence were classified as being something other than assaultive, sex, or drug offenders as contrasted with 1981 when this was found to be true for 44.8 percent of the women (a 4-year low). The proportion of women classified as drug offenders only decreased from a four-year high of 8.4 percent in 1981 to a four-year low of 6.1 percent in 1982. Less than two-fifths (38.1 percent) of the women in residence on December 31, 1982 were classified as having committed only assaultive offenses; a decrease from the four-year high of 40.4 percent recorded in 1981.

Offenders Admitted to Wisconsin Adult Correctional Institutions
Calendar Year 1982

Information about the 2,377[1] persons (1,940 first admissions, 437 readmissions) received at Wisconsin's correctional institutions for adults during calendar year 1982 is presented in this publication. This represents an increase of 5.1 percent over the preceding year when a total of 2,261 persons (1,894 first admissions, 367 readmissions) was reported. Data about offense, length of sentence, age on admission, etc. about persons first and readmitted during 1982 may be found in Tables 2-15. Tables are designed so that comparisons can be made between males and females as well as between first and readmissions.

Male First Admissions

The number of males who entered Wisconsin's correctional institutions for adults as first admissions rose slightly from 1,787 in 1981 to 1,806, an increase of 1.1 percent, in 1982. About two-thirds (66.2 percent) of the first admissions received new sentences and were not reported as being probation violators. Slightly more than one-fifth (21.1 percent) were admitted as probation violators without new sentences while the remaining 12.7 percent entered the institution as probation violators who had received new sentences.

The most common offenses for which first-admitted males were convicted and sentenced during 1982 were burglary, robbery, and theft. (See Table 2.) Just under one-half (49.8 percent) were considered as being something other than assaultive, sex, or drug offenders. Less than one-tenth (7.3 percent) were classified as drug offenders and one percent were considered to be sex offenders. Males classified as assaultive and sex offenders or assaultive and drug offenders accounted for 10.4 percent and 1.0 percent respectively of 1982 male first admissions. (See Table 6.) First-admitted males were serving an average (median) sentence of 40.4 months; a mean of 57.8 months. Life sentences were excluded from these computations. Males sentenced for unarmed burglary, armed robbery, and theft were serving average (mean) sentences of 39.3, 89.1, and 31.9 months respectively. (See Table 5.)

Commitments from the southeastern corner of Wisconsin (Milwaukee, Kenosha, Ozaukee, Racine, Walworth, Washington and Waukesha Counties) accounted for slightly more than one-half (52.2 percent) of all male first admissions in 1982. The average (median) age was reported to be 23.3 years. Males between the ages of 16-19 and 20-24 years old accounted for 20.5 and 37.9 percent respectively of all first admissions. (See Table 7.) Slightly less than two-thirds (64.4 percent) were reported to be white including 3.8 percent with Hispanic ethnic backgrounds. (See Table 8.) Just over one-half (51.5 percent) had no record of a felony conviction prior to the one that led to first admission during 1982 and over two-thirds (68.6 percent) had no record indicating past confinement in a correctional institution for juvenile offenders.

[1] An additional 395 persons were admitted in 1982 but are reported only in Table 1. They include 80 persons admitted on alternative to revocation contracts, 313 persons admitted pending completion of probation, parole, or mandatory release revocation hearings, and 2 persons admitted in error.

Male Readmissions

Four hundred and thirty males were received as readmissions during 1982; an increase of 19.1 percent over 1981 levels when 361 readmissions were reported. One-third (33.5 percent) of the males who were reported as returns from parole, mandatory release, or special action early release were received as readmissions with new sentences. Burglary, robbery, and forgery were the most common offenses recorded for readmissions. Over two-fifths (46.0 percent) of the readmissions were classified as being something other than assaultive, sex, or drug offenders. Only 3.2 percent of the males readmitted during 1982 were considered to be drug offenders while less than one percent were classified as sex offenders. Males classified as assaultive offenders made up 38.4 percent of the readmissions while almost one-tenth (9.8 percent) were classified as assaultive and sex offenders. The remaining readmissions (1.9 percent) were considered as being assaultive and drug offenders. (See Table 6.) The average (median) length of sentence for readmitted males was 70.7 months; the mean, 85.9 months. The average (mean) sentences being served by readmissions sentenced for unarmed burglary, armed robbery, and forgery were reported to be 50.5, 116.8, and 58.4 months respectively. (See Table 5.)

Three-fifths (60.5 percent) of the males readmitted during 1982 were committed from the southeastern section of the state with 44.5 percent being from Milwaukee County. The median age was reported to be 27.3 years and slightly over one-half (55.4 percent) were reported to be white.

Female First Admissions and Readmissions

One hundred and forty-one females, 134 first admissions and 7 readmissions, were reported in calendar year 1982; an increase of 24.8 percent over 1981 when 107 first and six readmissions were reported. Two-thirds (66.4 percent) of the first-admissions received new sentences; the remainder were admitted as probation violators with or without new sentences. Three parole violators and one mandatory release violator were readmitted with new sentences while one parole violator and two mandatory release violators were readmitted without receiving a new sentence. Forgery and theft were the offenses for which almost two-fifths (39.2 percent) of the first-admitted females had been convicted. Three out of seven readmissions were also sentenced for forgery. (See Table 2.) The median length of sentence for first-admitted females was reported to be 31.0 months; the mean, 37.0 months. Female readmissions, however, had a median sentence of 41.0 months and a mean of 63.9 months. Over one-half (55.2 percent) of the first admissions were not classified as assaultive, sex, or drug offenders. Almost one-tenth (9.7 percent) were classed as drug offenders and 3.0 percent were classed as sex offenders. Slightly less than one-third (31.4 percent) of the first admissions were categorized as assaultive offenders. Two re-admitted females were considered to be assaultive offenders, one a drug offender, and the remaining were classified as not being assaultive, sex, or drug offenders. Milwaukee (37.2 percent), Racine (10.4 percent), Kenosha and Rock (7.4 percent each) sent over three-fifths (62.4 percent) of the first admissions to the institutions. Five of the females received as readmissions were from Milwaukee County; the remaining two from Racine County. Somewhat over one-half (56.8 percent) of the first admissions were reported to be white whereas six out of seven readmissions were Black. The average (median) age for females classed as first admissions was 27.5 years. (See Table 7.)

Offenders Released From
Division of Corrections Adult Institutions in 1982

This bulletin provides the reader with a description of the 2,066 persons, 1,955 males and 111 females first or rereleased from Wisconsin's correctional facilities for adult offenders during calendar year 1982. An additional 102 persons, 99 males and 3 females, released during the same time period are noted only in Table 1. This group includes 31 males and 3 females released following completion of probation, parole, or mandatory release revocation hearings, 64 males released following completion of alternative to revocation contracts, 1 male released who was not serving a Wisconsin sentence, and 3 males released following admission in error. A variety of information including offense, length of stay, participation in educational programs, etc. for first and rereleases can be found in Tables 2-21. Tables are arranged so that comparisons can be made between males and females as well as between first and rereleases.

A total of 1,571 males were reported as first releases during calendar year 1982; an increase of 13 percent over 1981 levels and a high for the five-year period. The greater portion (97.6 percent) of the men reported as first releases in 1982 left the institution to serve the remainder of their sentences under some type of supervision in the community; i.e. parole, mandatory release, or special action early release. The remaining first releases were men who were discharged either upon completion of sentence or by court order and two men who died while incarcerated. Males first-released in 1982 spent an average (mean) of 23.1 months in the institution prior to release; a drop from the five-year high of 26.6 months reported in 1981. The proportion of first releases who had been committed from Milwaukee County continued to decrease from the five-year high of 44.3 percent recorded in 1980 to 38.3 percent in 1982.

Wisconsin's Division of Corrections provides a wide range of program activities for persons under supervision in correctional facilities for adult offenders. The revised statistical reporting system, which became operational on January 1, 1980, now makes it possible to provide some basic information about program participation during incarceration. One-third (33.6 percent) of the males first released in 1982 had participated in programs designed to aid in dealing with problems related to drug and/or alcohol usage. Participation in programs of this type increased during each of the three years for which information is available. Less than one-fourth (23.1 percent) of the males first-released during 1982 had participated in work release programs while incarcerated. Participation in this program has declined steadily since the high of over one-third (34.9 percent) recorded in 1980. This decline may be attributable, in part, to general economic conditions during the time period. Less than one-fifth (19.1 percent) of the males first-released in 1982 took part in Adult Basic Education classes while over one-third (36.1 percent) were reported to have taken part in GED or HED programs while institutionalized.

*Information not available for 1978-1979.

One hundred and six females received first releases during calendar year 1982, a high for the five-year period, and a 51.4 percent increase over the low of 70 recorded in 1978 and again in 1980. Three women were discharged by court order. The remaining 103 (97.2 percent) were released to supervision in the community on parole (58.5 percent), mandatory release (29.3 percent), and special action early release (9.4 percent). The average (mean) length of stay, which stood at a five-year high of 21.4 months in 1980, decreased steadily to a low of 17.4 months in 1982. The proportion of first-released females who had been committed from Milwaukee County continued a decline first noted in 1980 and reached a five-year low of 41.5 percent in 1982. GED and HED program participation dropped slightly in 1982. However, participation by first-released females in Adult Basic Education classes has increased steadily and reached a three-year high of 43.8 percent in 1982. Enrollment in drug and/or alcohol treatment programs increased steadily during the three-year period for which data is available, rising to a high of 45.2 percent in 1982. Reported participation in work release programs while incarcerated declined steadily reaching a low of 30.2 percent in 1982.

TABLE C

Selected Characteristics for Rereleased Adult Males
1978-1982

	CALENDAR YEAR

Percent with participation in Work Release programs	*	*	28.3	32.6	21.9

*Information not available for 1978-1979.

Reports indicate a total of 384 men were rereleased during calendar year 1982. This is a high for the five-year period and an increase of 7.0 percent over the previous high recorded in 1981. Slightly more than three-fifths (61.5 percent) were released on mandatory release supervision, 13.5 percent were reported as special action early releases, and 7.5 percent were released on parole. Releases upon completion of sentence accounted for 16.7 percent of the rereleases while 0.8 percent were reported as being discharged by order of the court. Men rereleased during 1982 were reported to have spent an average (mean) of 19.0 months in the institution; a decrease of 3.7 months from the five-year high of 22.7 months recorded in 1981. The proportion of rereleased males who had been committed from Milwaukee County dropped from a five-year high of almost one-half (49.0 percent) in 1981 to somewhat over two-fifths (44.3 percent) in 1982. Participation in GED or HED programs, Adult Basic Education programs, drug and/or alcohol programs, and work release prior to being rereleased all showed a decline during 1982.

A trend table has not been prepared for rereleased females since smallness of numbers makes data fairly meaningless. Five women were rereleased during 1982; 4 mandatory releases and 1 discharge upon completion of sentence. Four had been committed from Milwaukee County; 1 from Lafayette County. The average (mean) length of stay reported was 5.4 months. One female was reported to have participated in the work release program while incarcerated.
